User must have a license for each teacher, administrator, teacher assistant, assistant and student. The license is free of charge. The license will be obtained from www.teachershelf.com. The file is part of the Teachers' Helper package, and it must not be removed from the package when using it. However, users are allowed to distribute the Teachers' Helper package to other users if they so desire. In addition, Teachers' Helper enables schools to log in to a central data bank that contains all the students' data and the results of all their lessons. For students who are enrolled in more than one school, the teachers and schools will also be able to see which school the student is enrolled in, if the student is enrolled in more than one school. Teachers' Helper has been used successfully in a wide variety of Dutch schools in various districts and is suitable for all types of school (general, vocational, special, and university). Teachers' Helper can be used both at the teacher's office or at home on a computer or mobile device. The latest version is 1.3.3, the file is compatible with Windows XP, Windows Vista and Windows 7, the language is in English and the software is available from www.teachershelf.com in the download section. It includes a detailed user manual and a registration and activation key.
